The Legislature in Session-A Muddle in

NEW ORLEANS, June 29, 1868. The Louisiana Legislature convened to-day. The Senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Dunn. The temporary secretary was ordered to read General Buchanan's order promulgating General Grant's order removing Governor Baker and Lieutenant Governor Voorhies and appointing Warmout and Dunn Provisional Governor and Lieutenant Governor in their stead; also Mr. Warmouth's order convening the Legislature.

The roll was called from General Buorder announcing the names of those who were elected. Thirty-four members answered. The clerk also read General Grant's rder to General Buchanan, approving the action of the latter in relation to the municipal officers, suggesting that only the oath prescribed by the new constitution be required of the newly elected officers. Lieutenant Governor Dunn announced that he was not prepared to comply with General Grant's suggestions, but he would require the test oath to be administered. The democrats appealed. It was argued that the presiding officer had no authority to prescribe any oath whatever; that the Legislature was convened under the new constitution, and no other oath than the one therein specified could be demanded. It was moved to refer the question to the Commanding General. Lieutenant Governor Dunn ruled that until the members had qualified no appeal could be taken or motion offered, and he ordered the roll call for the members, who could do so, to come forward and take the test oath as their names were called.

The democratic members entered a protest and refused to take the oath, several asserting their ability to do so, but denying the right to demand it. Nineten—a bare quorum—took the test oath, after which the constitutional oath was administered.

A committee on credentials and elections was appointed, and several contests for seats were referred to them.

An adjournment was then had till to-morrow noon. After the adjournment as large number of negroes crowded around the presiding officer to offer their congratulations. Four of the Senators are full negroes and several are of mixed blood.

The House was called to order by Colonel Bachelder, of General Buchanan's staff, who called Rachester, of detectal the roll.

R. H. Isabell, a negro, was elected temporary chairman. He took the test oath on taking his seat, and announced, in reply to a protest, that no member who could not take the test oath could take his Fifty-three, a quorum, took the required oath, the majority of the democrats retiring. A committee on ejections was appointed. The Legislature then adjourned until to-morrow.

Mr. Milan, republican, entered a protest against the recognition of the authority of General Buchanan to interiere in the organization of the House, and made some remarks, concluding as follows:

"And when this House is once organized, then I desire to announce to Colonel, Bachelder and to General Buchanan. commanding, and to the United States Army at large, if necessary, that all interference on the part of the army must cease."

The proportion of negroes in the House is greater than in the Senate.

Arrest of More Fillbusters-The Seven Wise

NEW ORLEANS, June 29, 1868. Another squad of supposed filibusters, numbering about eighty, were captured near Fort Livingston, Louisiana, and brought to Fort Jackson. A majority of them were Mexicans, and but two of them appeared to exercise any authority. A small lugger loaded with provisions was also captured, but no arms except a single Colt's revolver. The prisoners assert that they are peaceable citizens intent upon a legitimate object.

The Supreme Conclave of the Order of Seven Wise Men, being the highest tribunal of that order, are now holding their annual session in this city. The session is largely attended and will be prolonged, Message of General Scott, Governor Elect. CHARLESTON, June 29, 1868. The Daily News this morning publishes a full abstract of the message of General Scott, Governor elect, to be presented at the meeting of the new Legislature on Monday next. General Scott urges the immediate provision for the extinguishment of the be effected at lower rates. He advises rigid economy and equitable taxation to insure the regular payment of the accrued and coming due interest. He says no obligation of the State should be evaded. In regard to education he recommends the establishment of a thorough system of public schools and that Congress be memorialized for aid, as the State is too poor to pay for them by taxation. He advises that the crops be diversified and urges the passage of laws encouraging immigration. He advises the Legislature to relieve every person of all political disabilities. In regard to the militah he advises a thorough reorganization and no oath to be required but to support the present constitution of the State. He recommends the encouragement of railroad enterprises, and advises measures for securing the immediate completion of the Blue Ridge Railroad. He advises the modification of the penitentiary, jail and judicial systems, and says he hopes the Freedmen's Bureau will be terminated in the State by October. He regrets the recent disturbances in Camden and Barnwell, and presses his determination to enforce the law against all disturbers of the peace of the State without respect to persons. At the same time he expresses his belief that no organization exists in South Carolina for the purpose of obstructing the laws of the State. He states that every man shall be fully protected in person and property and in the free exercise of his rights as a citizen, so far as they depend on the Executive of the State, and state, and conclusion he expresses the hope that an era of good and equitable taxation to insure the regular payment an the free exercise of ms rights as a curzen, so hat as they depend on the Executive of the State. In conclusion he expresses the hope that an era of good feeling has been inaugurated, and that the martia valor of South Carolina, so justly renowned, will hereafter be displayed in support of the flag of our common country.

Explosion of a Drying Cylinder in a Boston

The bulkhead of the drying cylinder in the cotton batting factory of Thomas H. Dunham, at 163 Harrison avenue, in this city, exploded this afternoon badly damaging the roof and other portions of the building. Two girls, named Sarah Whalley and Mary Robinson, at work in the factory, were badly injured, the former, it is thought, fatally. The cylinder head was thrown through the side of the factory and the front of a small wooden dwelling house adjoining, but, fortunately, without injury to any of the immates, all of whom had a narrow escape. The building and machinery were damaged to the amount of $3,000 or $4,000.

Progress of the Election-The Democrats Still Ahead.

The second day of the election has closed herwith a radical majority of 616 in this county, where there is registered a colored majority of 1,700. The election will not close throughout the State for several days. Full returns have been received from but few counties. Some of the radical strongholds have been heard from. The majority for the democrats up to this time is 12,785.

The radical newspaper at this place says that in all the counties where the democrats have received a majority the election must be declared illegal and void, although there is not a single outrage known to the public.

The official organ of the radical party in this State has suspended publication.

The polls at Vicksburg were kept open till ten o'clock on Saturday night, by General McDowell, against the earnest protests of the citizens.

ncement Exercises Last Evening The exhibition hall of St. Francis Xavier's College which is under the direction of the Society of Jesus), in West Fifteenth street, was crowded to repletion last evening by a fashionable assemblage of ladie and gentlemen, the occasion being the eighteenth annual commencement of the institution. Among those present were Archbishop McCloskey, Vicar Starrs, Revs. Mr. McNierny, Joseph P. Wood, Father Miglan, President St. Francis Xavier's College; Father Shea, S. J., President of Fordham College; Thomas H. Killeen, Newark; Sylvester Ma ione, Brooklyn, E. D.; Thomas Farrell, St. Joseph's church, New York; Michael Curran, St. Andrew's Father McQuade, S. J., of Seton Hall; Bishop Elert, D. D.; P. McCarthy, of the Church of the Holy Cross, and Father Preston, of St. Ann's.

The order of exercises commenced with music by the orchestra, under the direction of Professor Max Braun. The first discourse was delivered by Mr. Peter Condon, on the "Genius of Christian Art." After some preliminary and philosophical remarks on the nature of Christian art and its sublime mission, the speaker pointed out the relation existing between christian art and religion, and claimed for the Catholic Church the title of "Patroness of the Arts;" and that to her alone belonged the glory of having fostered and protected modern art. Christian faith had given it a foundation, hope had built up the walls, while love had reared upon it a pinnacle piercing the heavens. up the walls, while love had reared upon it a pinnacle piercing the heavens.

Mr. Louis E. Hostlot was the next speaker. He took for his subject the "Genius of Christian Elioquence." After briefly reviewing the labors of the ancient orators and contrasting what they had effected by their eloquence with the effects of Christian eloquence, he described one result of it and what he called the "new and moral power"—a power which he contended had preserved our modern civilization—a power which, when the world was in confusion and religion in danger, had always proved its might.

which he contended had preserved our modern civilization—a power which, when the world was in confusion and religion in danger, had always proved its might.

The "master's oration" on the "Genius of Christian History" was next delivered by Mr. H. P. Relliy, during which he contended that by the written history of the past three centuries the spirit and influence of religion had been misrepresented.

At the close of the discourses the ceremony of awarding medals and prizes and conferring the degrees took place, Archibishop McCloskey rendering the medals to each of the honored ones as they came forward to the platform The degree A. #### ARREST OF AN ALLEGED FORGER.

About a month ago it is alleged that a hotel keeper, named Benjamin F. Webster, at Geneva, N. Y., committed forgeries to a considerable amount upon several of the banks and citizens of that town. Previous to the discovery of the forgeries he had sold out his property there, and, deserting a wife and family, left for parts unknown, in company with one of his domestics, named Annie Doyle. Inspector Dilks was informed of the flight of Webster, and at once placed his officers upon the alert, but too late, however, to secure his capture. He learned that the parties had salied for California. It seems that they proceeded as far as Aspinwall, when Webster repented of his California trip and took the next steamer for New York. A day or two ago the Inspector learned that the fugitive was sojourning at Earle's Hotel, and on Sunday he detailed Detective, Bennett, of the Metropolitan Police force, to make the arrest. Webster and female companion were at once taken into custody and locked up at police headquarters, to await the arrival of an officer from Geneva, who left last night for this city for the purpose of escorting him back to the scene of his alleged irregularities. Upon the person of the accused $1,650 was found. upon several of the banks and citizens of that town

A Card to the Public.

Henry Stainway, Jr., died in this city in the month of March, 1985. By his last will be appointed his brothers Charles and William the guardians of his three young children, daughters, and the trustees and rescutors of his estate, Charles Steinway died later in March, 1985. In the appointing william Steinway and the trustees and the stainway from the third ward children, appointing William Steinway area of Henry Steinway having been of henry Steinway having been of henry Steinway having been of he y their mother to Brunswick, in Germany, in the family of Attorney General Koch, of the duchy of Brunswick, where they have ever since resided. As William Steinway was about leaving with his family for Kurope in May last proceedings were instituted by the mother of Henry Steinway's children to compel him to bring them. This application was opposed on grounds which are now receiving judicial investigation. After William Steinway had left the pending investigation After William Steinway had left the pending investigation was sought to be influenced against him by a suggestion then for the first time ever made, that he had been unfaithful in the administration of his brother's estate; and alt was staid, circumstantisly, that he had conveyed the property at a sum very far below its value to his father, who had then sold and conveyed it back to him at the same price. That charge was fully disproved in court; and that disproof will now its stated, to correct any hostic impression the publication of the charge may have produced. In 1861 articles of copartnership between Henry Steinway, Sr., and his sons Henry, William and Charles we produced. In 1861 articles of copartnership between Henry Steinway, Sr., and his sons Henry, William and Charles was profuced of the surviving members of the firm; and that the value of the surviving members of the firm; and that the value of the surviving members of the firm; and that the value of the surviving members of the firm; and that the fourths having thus been acquired for the surviving member of the firm, the father conveyed one of the one-fourths back to William Steinway. All lawyers and most laymen will un derstand that these conveyances were formal and necessar; to perfect the title to the partnership property in the surviving partners, in conformity with the articles of copariner ship and the wills of the deceased partners. Mr. William Steinway has accounted for the value of the shares of the deceased partners to the beirs and legatese of their respective estates. Steinway Hall was built by the survivors more that a year after the decease of the two partners. This explanation is made by counsel because of Mr. William Steinway's absence in Europe.
